

Terms & Conditions for BirdLife South Africa's 2022 raffle

The promoter of this competition is BirdLife South Africa, non-profit registration number 001-298 NPO ("the Promoter"), whose registered address is Isdell House, 17 Hume Road, Dunkeld West, 2196 Gauteng.

Eligibility

The competition is not open to employees of BirdLife South and their immediate families or Board members of BirdLife South Africa and their immediate families.

Acceptance

By entering the competition all participants and winners agree to be bound by these terms and conditions, which will be interpreted by the Promoter, in its sole discretion and its decision regarding any dispute will be conclusive, final and binding and will not be challenged on any grounds, including without limitation, the grounds that the Promoter failed to act reasonably, fairly, in good faith or otherwise in accordance with the principles or procedural fairness.

BirdLife South Africa reserves the right to amend the validity dates of this competition at any time.

To enter the competition, all entrants must comply with the competition by submitting the details as requested. Entries will be considered incomplete and thus disqualified if the entrant does not provide all requested information.

Entry and payment may only be via the BirdLife South Africa website and its payment mechanism to ensure the sequential issuing of tickets. No other forms of ticket purchase will be allowed.

Entries

To enter this competition entrants need to buy a raffle ticket.

A person may enter multiple times.

The winner will be randomly chosen by BirdLife South Africa from all valid entries.

The raffle will run during 2022, with the draw taking place on 18 October 2022. Entries close at 12h00 on 11 October 2022 and any entries received after the closing of the competition will be invalid and will not be entered into the competition.

The winner will be notified telephonically or via e-mail within one week of the closing date on the cell phone number or e-mail address with which they entered this competition.

The competition winner will have five working days to claim acceptance of his/her prize. Upon failure to do so, BirdLife South Africa reserves the right to draw a new winner in accordance with the terms stipulated herein.

The decision of the Promoter is final and the Promoter shall not enter into any correspondence about the result.

Entries that do not comply with these terms and conditions will be disqualified.

The Promoter shall not be liable for any disruption to the competition, whether due to technical problems or otherwise, which is beyond its reasonable control. In the event of any disruption to the competition the Promoter shall use its reasonable endeavours to remedy any disruption and resume the competition on a fair and equitable basis to the entrants.

By entering the competition entrants warrant that all information submitted by them is true, current, and complete.

Prize

The prize is as specified in the competition information.

Personal Data

Completion of a contact form is required for registration. All of the data entered into the form by the entrant is collected, processed and used by BirdLife South Africa in order to administer the competition.

The Promoter keeps the data to fulfil the purposes for which it was collected or as required by applicable laws or regulations.

Ownership and Publicity

BirdLife South Africa reserves the right to publish the name(s) and/or photograph(s) of the winner.

Therefore, entrants understand and agree that their submission may be posted and publicly viewable.

By providing a submission, you grant the Promoter the right, except where prohibited by law, to use your name for competition purposes in promoting or publicising the competition, including the right to name the winner of the prize in public.

Details of the winner/s may also be announced on the Promoter's website and any other media properties that it chooses. The Promoter, acting reasonably, retains the right to delay the timing of the publication of the winners of the competition.

Release of Liability

The Promoter reserves the right to terminate the competition at any time.

The Promoter cannot accept any responsibility for entries not received because they have been lost, or not received due to interrupted internet connections or miscommunications, or other electronic malfunctions.

Any entries found to be fraudulent will result in the entrant being excluded from the competition.

By participating, all entrants release the Promoter, its affiliates, partners, subsidiaries, officers, directors, agents, employees and all entities associated with the development and execution of this competition from any and all liability with respect to and in any way arising from participation in this competition, acceptance or use of the prize.

The Promoter reserves the right to modify or cancel the competition in the event that any portion of any website used to administer any aspect of the competition becomes technically corrupted.

The Promoter assumes no responsibility for any error, omission, interruption, deletion, defect, delay in operation or transmission, communications line failure, theft or destruction or unauthorized access to, or alteration of entries.

Privacy Policy

BirdLife South Africa (“the Promoter”) treats all information collected as confidential and will not sell, share or rent this information to any other third-parties.

BirdLife South Africa reserves the right to change the terms and conditions at any given time.
